Oh well, let's see what 1936 will do about it.

It might be well for us to take a little personal inventory of our own and see what we did in 1935. Did we give the best that was in us toward making it a better world to live in—did we scatter sunshine or gloom—did we live up to the standard that we set for our neighbor? One thing is sure. We have moved one year nearer to that scene in the cemetery where kindly hands will lower us through to that realm which we know only by faith. 1936 would be a mighty good year to have the lamps trimmed and burning.

The ever-growing burden of taxes, that government the inevitable result of enormously local—has increased governmental spending, is taking from the American people to a realization of the far-reaching economic and social consequences involved in piling up national debts and deficits, and the methods used to influence extravagant expenditures by state and local taxing bodies. With the largest peace-time government payroll in the history of the nation, and with our government spending at the rate of approximately $12,000,000 a day in excess of income, it is evident that even present exorbitant taxes cannot be stretched out to cover the vast expenditures.

The cost of government today—national, state and local—is equal to approximately one-third of the total income of all of our citizens. Brookings Institution has repeatedly stated that those engaged in gainful occupation receive about 85 per cent of the national income in wages, so it is seen that the heaviest burden of government spending falls upon the working class.

Tax Collectors Everywhere

Nearly every person whom you encounter in business exacts from you a portion of the huge tax bill you are required to pay. The butcher, the baker, and every other merchant is on the job, reluctantly to be sure, day in and day out gathering in the pennies and the dollars for the multitude of taxing agencies. Every time you spend $5 for your family, taxes take $1.30 out of that five dollars. When you pay for food, for clothing, for rent, for gas—or everything you buy—you pay the taxes that the government lays on the miner, the farmer, the processor, the manufacturer, the storekeeper, and the landlord. All their taxes are lumped together in the final selling price to you. And you pay them!

Automobile taxes in 1934, including taxes as personal property and in the form of license fees and gasoline taxes, exceeded $1,200,000,000 which is actually greater than the $1,147,000,000 received by automobile manufacturers for the cars they sold to dealers.

Taxes Five Times Earnings

The net earnings of the petroleum industry in 1934 were $204,000,000. That industry paid $1,000,000,000 in taxes, or nearly five times its net earnings.

It is estimated that approximately 34 per cent of the rental bill for residential property and 28 per cent of the rental bill for business property is made up of taxes.

The per capita cost of local, state, and national governments rose from $33.84 in 1915 to the enormous sum of $122.52 per person in 1934.

The "hidden tax," an insidious form of collecting revenue, is being resorted to more and more by the politicians, who shrink from imposing additional direct tax burdens on their already grumbling constituents.

A compilation by the New York Trust company in June, 1935, shows that the principal sources of revenue for the United States in the fiscal year 1933-34 were distributed as follows: Income taxes, 26%; customs 10%; indirect taxes, 59%; other revenues, 5%. For the years 1929-30,

Government Money is the People's Present tax rates are already producing larger revenues than the government received in any year from 1923 to 1928. Taxes were 80 per cent higher last year than in 1932. And yet, they fall far short of meeting the demands of the government spenders.

It is a fact not clearly understood, that government—national, state, or local—has no money except what it takes from the people in some form of taxation. When the government spends more than it raises from taxes, it borrows money from the people and goes in debt to the people. It gives its notes or bonds to the people from whom it borrows and promises to pay these off from funds collected later from the people in some form of taxes.

It is the people's money always.

The honeyed efforts to lure business back into a new NRA remind one of the cunning invitation of the spider to the fly. But, with bitter memories of regimentation under the old NRA and hopeful that the supreme court decision ended that form of government dictatorship for all time in the United States, the American business man isn't going to be deceived again by designing collectivists who seek to accomplish by subterfuge what they are prevented by the constitution from doing.

The writing of government checks has become a gigantic task. Thousands of employes do nothing else. Batteries of check-writing machines are being installed to expedite the work.

G. O. Barnes, executive assistant to the treasurer of the United States, estimates that the total number of individual checks drawn on the U. S. treasury during the fiscal year ending last June 30, reached the astounding total of 50,000,000. This does not include about 1,000,000 government employes who are paid cash. During the World war with 5,000,000 men under arms, the number of individual checks drawn on the U. S. treasury never exceeded 40,000,000 in one year.

With 3,500,000 persons now on work relief, and paid twice a month, (that is when McCollough and Allen can stop fighting long enough), there are added 84,000,000 checks a year, or a total of 134,000,000 checks!

More Taxes Under Social Security Act

The significance of the Social Security Act has not been fully realized by investors. The law undoubtedly will have far-reaching effect upon American industry. With its payroll tax for future unemployment compensation already operative, and the old age benefit provisions becoming effective Jan. 1, 1937, the burden upon business will grow as the taxes automatically increase. All employers coming under the unemployment provisions of the act are now paying a tax of one percent of the annual wages paid to all employees. This will increase to two per cent next year and three per cent the following year, after which it remains at three per cent. Under the old age provisions, both employer and employe share in the taxes. Beginning Jan. 1, 1937, each is taxed one per cent of the annual wages (up to $3,000) of the employe, and this percentage increases one-half per cent each three year interval until 1949, when each will be paying three per cent. The total taxes under the act will then have reached nine per cent of the annual payroll involved. Within a single generation, it has been estimated, the government will be custodian of a thirty-five billion dollar fund.

This newspaper has it on unim-be custodian of a thirty-five billion dollar fund.

This newspaper has it on anim-peachable authority that Governor Kump will call an extraordinary session of the legislature on or about Feb. 1, but it is the governor's wish that the lawmakers consider only relief and social security matters on that occasion.

It will be recalled that a legislative committee considering a state security act recently recommended a session, but Kump made no comment at that time, other than to say he would call the lawmakers if congress provides funds to place the federal act in operation and the security board prepare regulations, adding:

"I hope that the scope of matters for consideration by the legislature in such extraordinary session may be confined to federal-state relations and kindred remedial, enabling and relief measures."

The extraordinary session will be called. Congress will provide funds relief measures."

The extraordinary session will be called. Congress will provide funds to place social security laws in operation, but it is very unlikely that the lawmakers will concede to the governor's wish, adjourn and go home after disposing of this problem. Rather, it is believed that the session will be a long, drawn out one, and many things will come up to embarrass the administration of Governor Kump.

One of the things that is likely to embarrass the governor on that occasion is his refusal to grant the Charleston Chamber of Commerce's recent request that he ask the legislators to consider the appropriation of $2,000,000 to purchase rights-of-way for highways. That body, a powerful and influential one, is particularly interested in improvement of the Midland Trail near Charleston. In a letter to the governor the chamber asserted that lack of funds to purchase rights-of-way is delaying powerful and influential one, is particularly interested in improvement of the Midland Trail near Charleston. In a letter to the governor the chamber asserted that lack of funds to purchase rights-of-way is delaying construction for which federal funds are available. Gov. Kump rejected his proposal because he said "private interests" are being allowed to encroach upon the rights-of-way.

This is just one of the many knotty problems that will face Kump, once the legislature convenes, and it is known by one and all that he would never in the world call an extraordinary session if it were not literally being forced on him by the fact that social security laws must be passed.

To anyone who follows West Virginia politics and public affairs the above set-up is ridiculous. For this reason: Some months ago Gov. Kump refused the supreme court olive branch, and in view of this, it is not likely that he would accept a lesser office.

The fact of the matter is, there will be no reconciliation amongst the leaders of the Democratic party in West Virginia, either before or after the general election of 1936, and you can bet your bottom dollar on that. They are split wide open—as far as Honkong, China, and Mrs. Murphy's cow.

And what about the Roosevelt-Smith split? Look out for Smith and a third party movement.

Farm Bureau Takes Action to Provide Lime for Farmers

Plans to Establish $200,000 Cooperative Plant to Cut Costs
Approximately in Half

Plans for the establishment of a $200,000 cooperative lime plant to end the "lime famine" in central West Virginia were launched at Jackson's Mill on Tuesday of last week, September 14, when the committee appointed by the West Virginia Farm Bureau at its annual meeting in August at Jackson's Mill met to consider ways and means of solving the lime problem.

The establishment of such a plant to provide an adequate supply of lime at reasonable cost for counties not already having solved this problem was one of the major objectives included in the program of activities adopted by the Farm Bureau at its meeting and a committee composed of W O Lunford, Lewis county; C. W. Teter, Upshur; G L Hively, Boone; B F Handolph, Braxton; and Brooks Fleming, Ritchie, was appointed to work on the problem.

Reports given at the meeting last week showed that farmers throughout central West Virginia can apply only a small part of the lime needed on their farms due to its high cost. In addition to members of the committee, the meeting was attended by

Locals Boast 20 Straight Wins; Seven Lettermen On 1937 Squad

The Marlinton Copperheads, undefeated since in three years by Hillsboro, will start their annual football season Saturday by meeting Franklin here.

Among the gridiron players this year are seven lettermen, all seniors, namely: J. Sheets, R. Long, P. Malcomb, W. Ruckman, H. L. Sheets, McMillon and Poage.

in program is dependent upon conditions at the coming session. Advance planning makes it possible for farmers to organize operations to better advantage. In 1936 Congress authorized a program under the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act. There is no reason to doubt that appropriation will be made for this program.

That of individual farm ownership, as believed, will give each farmer a better concept of his part in the national conservation effort, and the work of administration. In the 1938 program, the maximum payment each farmer will be determined on the basis of the crop year and will be dependent upon the results of his goals, which he must work out and establish for himself.

Mr. Dorsey will explain about the plan for the program in the columns of this week.

Chickens Rather Scarce; Higher Prices Foreseen

Cold Storage Eggs Moving Slowly; Egg Prices Not Expected to Exceed Those of 1936

Higher prices for chickens but egg prices probably not as high as during the fall months of last year, are foreseen by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture in a report issued on September 9. Chickens for the country as a whole made a sharp rise in price during August, but egg prices rose less than is usual at this season.

Records of the ten highest-producing flocks in West Virginia on an eggs-per-bird basis for August 1936 and August 1937, however, show that the owners of the ten high flocks this year received an average of 26.172 cents per dozen as compared to an average of 24.04 cents per dozen received by the owners of the ten high flocks in August, 1937.

Market receipts of poultry last month did not increase as usual at this time of year and as a result the price of chickens rose to its highest point in 1937 at a time when such prices usually decline. Prices of chickens during the remainder of 1937 are expected to continue higher than those that prevailed during the corresponding period of 1936.

Feed Situation Is Better

With the average size of flocks declining less last month than the average for the time of year it appears that farmers are keeping their flocks

Junior Farmer's Week Has Long Record of Winners in Judging Contests; Greenbank Listed

After seventeen years of competition between West Virginia high schools in which vocational agriculture is taught, Junior Farmers' Week at Morgantown this year offers to these schools the eighteenth annual series of judging contests. Dates are October 6 to 9, 1937.

The contest series began in 1921 with a livestock judging competition in which the 3-man team from Riverdale High School took first place. Since then, top rank has been won in different years by Masontown, Shinnston, Cairo (3 times), Morgantown, Petersburg, Greenbank, Middlebourne, Daybrook, Frankford, Harrisville, Weston, and West Milford High Schools.

In the horticulture contest, begun in 1923, first place has been won by Pt. Pleasant, Lumberport, Masontown, Parsons, Morgantown, Bunker Hill (twice), Weston, (4 times), Flemington, and Petersburg (3 times) High Schools.

Gap Mills High School took the prize in the farm shopwork contest, begun in 1930. Masontown, Weston (twice), Surveyor, West Milford, and Middlebourne also have taken first. Bridgeport led in the dairy judge-contests. T. J. Grove, Green member of executive committee; W. H. Pierre, head of the soil and soils department of the West Virginia Agricultural Experiment Station; R. J. Williams, county agent in Upshur and Lewis counties.

Dr. Pierre pointed out that the million tons of lime needed to meet the lime requirements of West Virginia soils are 300,000 tons are needed to maintain the lime in the soils. Dr. McCue pointed out that there are practically no sources for agricultural lime in this state. Tucker, Randolph and Greenbrier counties produce this supply along with the way of coal and makes an ideal combination for the production of burned lime. It is estimated that with the equipped plant and the Diesel-powered truck transportation it would be costs approximately $1.00 per ton.

Mr. Bomberger pointed out that the Bank for Agriculture is financing such a plant for 10 percent of the estimated cost, the remainder to be paid by the sale of stock. Such a plant would be capable of producing 100,000 tons of burned limestone annually. It would be a

Sale, Tuesday, M

Tuesday Will Mark Marlinton's Largest Mass Bargain Day; Look Over the Ads Appearing In This Issue and See the Truth of This Statement.

With sixteen of Marlinton's leading merchants signed to participate in The Marlinton Journal's first Mass Dollar Day Bargain Sale, Tuesday, March 30, the citizens of Pocahontas county are assured of greater bargains than ever before offered by local merchants.

Other local business men have said they will offer bargains for this day, and all in all, Tuesday promises to be the red letter sale day in the history of this county.

As proof of this we only have to quote from ads appearing in The Journal today:

30 Bars of toilet soap for $1.00, can you match it?

10 yards of unbleached muslin for a dollar, this is less than the present wholesale price.

12 Pairs of Men's work or dress socks, for $1.00.

7 Yards of print material for $1.00.

4 Genuine Cannon Towels for a dollar, regular 39c sellers.

Men's Dress Hats for $1.00.

10 Yards curtain material for a dollar.

Ladies' wash Dresses, 2 for $1.00.

Ladies' Hats reduced to $1.00.

The Marlinton Journal, will offer for the one day only, a year's subscription for $1.00. We will also allow the same discount on past due subscription accounts. A 20% reduction will be allowed on all job printing orders received on Tuesday, March 30.

And many other bargains as startling. Read these ads and see the money you can save. Also compare these prices with your mail order catalog and see that they are as low, if not lower.

The merchants, in cooperation with The Marlinton Journal, have made plans to hold this great clearance sale twice a year, each March and September, in the future. Therefore you are assured that you will receive unheard

The sale prices are for one day only, with all sales for cash, and no exchanges allowed. You will realize after seeing the great bargains, that merchants could not possibly conduct the sale under any other plan.

But, to be guaranteed that you will receive real bargains, be sure that the merchant's name appears in this list, or that he has an official Dollar Day Sale sign displayed in his store. CAN YOU SUPPLY THE INFORMATION ASKED

The county superintendent's office is preparing a record for each school in the county. When complete this will make up part of the permanent record system now being instituted by the Board of Education. The present record begins with 1910, and when completed will show each teacher for the school until 1961. So far it has been possible in many cases to list all of the teachers for many of the schools. A list of teachers for each school in the county will be published in The Journal, and where blanks occur or where the teacher is listed as unknown, people will assist materially by furnishing the information to the county superintendent of schools. If the office is successful in getting a complete record since 1910, it may be that an effort will be made to carry the record back to 1900 for each building. The county superintendent's office is very anxious to get a record of all teachers who taught in the county prior to 1927. Records in the office are not available due to the fact that trustees employed teachers, and the minutes of boards contain no record of teacher employment. All people in the county whose names do not appear in the list below should write Superintendent Flynn giving the date of teaching and the school or schools taught. A partial list of teachers prior to 1927 is given below:

TRUCK CRASHES BRIDGE

A truck belonging to the Charleston Tractor and Equipment Co., of Charleston, broke through the bridge over Knappa creew, about a half mile above Huntersville, shortly after noon, Wednesday, March 24.

The truck was loaded with a tractor being taken to the upper end of the county for demonstration purposes. The driver was about midway of the bridge when he heard it crack. Speeding up his vehicle he was able to get within a few feet of the opposite side when the bridge broke loose from both foundations and crashed to the river bed.

The weight of the tractor forced the rear end of the truck straight down. The front wheels were held even with the top of the foundation, the truck standing straight up in the air, allowing the occupants to escape without injury.

JAMES W. CARPENTER

James W. Carpenter, aged 76 years passed away Saturday evening, Mar. 20, after a brief illness. He was a widely known person, having followed the lumber business since his early manhood, and had worked in many of the southern states. His profession was saw filing, and his ready humor made a favorite wherever he chanced to travel, and his friends were countless.

For the past year he has made his home with Ted Kerr, of Dunmore, where his death occurred. His remains were interred at the Warwick cemetery.

Thus passes one more of the pioneers in the white pine lumber industry. His only living relative is a nephew, Ward Lowe, of Covington.

March 30th, 1937

Editor, Marlinton Journal.

Dear Sir:-

On April 6th, (Next Tuesday) we have the right to cast our vote for or against the Air-Port. Which are we going to do? Vote to bond our little town to purchase real estate for a landing field for the use of aircraft. Now just how many acres of real estate are we being bonded to purchase. If I understand this bond is supposed to pay for 52 acres of which then is maintained as 22 acres. The cost being $5,500 and 19.7 acres in another tract at $100 per acre. They also propose the purchasing of other real estate that may be needed to be used as a landing field for use of aircraft. Just how are we to figure on our tax to pay for purchase of land? And are we to be taxed to complete the project or is it to be a free will offering?

Where and what income do the taxpayers derive from the airport? If the taxpayer can stand the bond, WHY not bond our town and improve it, (no tgo out here for 2 miles to an airport) when we need lights in dark places, streets and alleys that need completed. Or bond the town and buy or erect a building for children to skate in, instead of skating on the streets where they are in danger of getting hurt or hurting some one else. Just why not purchase some grazing land for those horrible old cows that furnish milk fo rso many families and children that are not able to buy milk. GARLAND SHARP

(From the Randolph Review)

Rescued by his uncle, who went back into a blazing house after him, Garland Sharp, 27, farmer, of Mingo, died in a local hospital early Tuesday morning, March 30.

Sharp was burned practically all over his body and suffered from inhalation of smoke and flames.

He was rescued late Sunday night, March 28, by Hugh B. Hall, 55. The six room frame dwelling, owned by Hall and valued at around $1,500, burned to the ground and all its contents were destroyed.

The two men, neither of them married, kept bachelor quarters in the farm house. Sharp worked his uncle's farm while the elder man was employed in the mines.

Hall awoke to find himself almost stifled from smoke. He fled from the building. As soon as he got a breath of air, he called for Sharp. The nephew did not answer and Hall plunged back into the house after him. He found him in his bed, which had begun to burn, and dragged him outside. Hall suffered burns about the face.

The county superintendent's office is preparing a record for each school in the county. When complete this will make up part of the permanent record system now being instituted by the Board of Education. The present record begins with 1910, and when completed will show each teacher for the school until 1961. So far it has been possible in many cases to list all of the teachers for many of the schools. A list of teachers for each school in the county will be published in The Journal, and where blanks occur or where the teacher is listed as unknown, people will assist materially by furnishing the information to the county superintendent of schools. If the office is successful in getting a complete record since 1910, it may be that an effort will be made to carry the record back to 1900 for each building. The county superintendent's office is very anxious to get a record of all teachers who taught in the county prior to 1927. Records in the office are not available due to the fact that trustees employed teachers, and the minutes of boards contain no record of teacher employment. All people in the county whose names do not appear in the list below should write Superintendent Flynn giving the date of teaching and the school or schools taught. A partial list of teachers prior to 1927 is given be-
